

You & Gerry Davis Sports – It's a Great Partnership

We're proud of our ongoing partnership with literally thousands of referees and umpires. We really do think of our customers as our partners – and that means a lot in officiating. Your partner is the one person you can rely on during a game, whether that person is sharing coverages or limited to working the lines. We work hard to be the business you can rely on when you're getting ready to work.

Today most of our key personnel are current or former prep and small college officials. Yes, that includes me. When I was umpiring minor league baseball I worked high school basketball games in Wisconsin in the late 70's and early 80's. Memories of too many winter nights driving icy roads to and from games are just a small part of why we at Gerry Davis Sports try to make things just a bit better for high school officials. Collectively, umpires and referees are the integrity of every competitive sport; high school officials set standards for young men and women who are often just learning what sportsmanship is all about. Your dedication deserves many more "Thank You's" than you'll ever hear, but today you have one from me.

If you have an officiating product idea, for soccer or for any sport, send it along by e-mail message – it will get our attention and a prompt reply. We're also trying to drive our costs down, primarily so we can lower our retail prices. Good ideas, great products and reasonable prices. I'm convinced that's the best way to build a strong customer base – and keep our partners happy.

Cold Weather

Here is cold weather protection you can afford! Performance apparel with two levels of protection – you choose what you want and need. These garments actually move moisture away from your body to an outer microfiber surface, then release the moisture for more efficient evaporation. All products are designed for “second skin” fit, so order carefully (size chart available on-line). You may want to “size up” for comfort. Wash in cold water, hang dry – never use fabric softener! Black only; medium to 3-XL.

When the ball is pumped you have to know if it's pumped right! This pencil-style inflation gauge comes complete with inflation needle. It's easy to use and easier to store in your gear bag.

Tube Style Pump

If you prefer a traditional, single-action tube pump here's your choice. This pump includes a plastic tube for light weight. It is 10 inches long so the inflation action is quick and to the point.

Speed Pump

When the ball is supposed to be pumped, and it's not, you might have to pull (and push) the duty. Here's a compact, double-action air pump for fast action. The special construction inflates on both the "push" and the "pull" strokes. Compact so it's easy to fit in your bag. MA4805 $9.90 [0916]

Inflation Needles

Yeah, no matter how careful you are eventually an inflation needle will bend or break. Card includes three 1.25" barrel inflation needles made of nickel plated steel.
