9. Selecting Participants allows you to add up to 32 participants at a time
   • If you have no participants added, you can select to copy over participants from another tournament provided it is the same sport. For example, if you have a girls cross country invitational in the system with participants, and are now adding the boys cross country invitational, you can copy over the participants from the girls to the boys invitational.

10. You can also build the games by date using the games tab, and will want to do this as soon as possible, but no later than three weeks out to avoid doubling your tournament sanctioning fee.
11. The games feature allows you to add games by date, and make multiple copies of the game to speed the process.
   • For example, if you have 16 teams, and you want to play 8 games at a certain time, you can select the number of copies to 8, and it will generate 8 contests at once.
Note, the opponents are not important to initially build the games, you can select TBD vs. TBD and come back later to update the opponents.

Edit Tournament Games

By clicking on “Games” next to the tournament, you have the ability to update the opponents within each match. Remember, all the games must be built in the system at least three weeks before the tournament begins to avoid the tournament fee being doubled.

The games can have TBD vs. TBD until the opponents become known. You’ll always have the ability to come back and update the opponents and will need to do so in order to report the results of the game.

Enter Results/Pay Officials

Once a game date occurs, this option becomes available so the school can enter results and pay officials for each tournament date as they come and go. They would click on this link, and then under the tournament date, would click the “Scores” link next to the game to enter the score, verify officials, and pay them.

The “Scores” link will look exactly the same way it does for schools entering their regular season games.

Once they press submit to enter the result and pay the officials, it would take them back to the game date screen they were already on, and the Scores feature for that game would then be locked.

Note: Please make sure you have funded your RefPay account in advance of the tournament in order to pay the officials after the tournament! The host school is the school that will pay the officials.
