Childhelp

Many athletes think that roughhousing and tough love is just part of being involved in sports. In today's world, the line between pushing an athlete to do their very best and abuse and bullying can be blurred. It is the responsibility of adults and the athletic community to ensure that student-athletes are protected, on and off the field. Childhelp Speak Up Be Safe for Athletes prevention education brings much-needed awareness to abuse in athletics. The campaign exists to promote the safe physical, emotional, educational and spiritual development of youth athletes. It is designed to teach children and also to aid coaches, educators, and parents in providing secure environments where students can reach their ultimate potential. The first safety rule of Childhelp Speak Up Be Safe for athletes, "It's my body," teaches students how to speak up if they feel uncomfortable with a coach or peer athlete. A bathing suit covers what is private. No secret, private touching or crossing personal boundaries. For more information and to bring the free campaign to your school, team, and community, please visit http://bit.ly/1W53YVm
