

OUR STUDENTS, OUR TEAMS . . . OUR FUTURE.

Arizona Interscholastic Association Media Policies

The AIA is very thankful for all the coverage media outlets across the state give the deserving student-athletes, coaches, administrators, schools and communities. The following policies will give guidance to those outlets and individuals who take the time for these endeavors.

This is high school -- not the college or professional ranks. And these are teenagers who mostly play the sport for fun as less than 4% of high school athletes compete at the next level. The benefits of playing in the high school realm focuses on teamwork, skill building, participating as an extension of the classroom, and students enjoying the sports they love with friends. These are the tenets of education-based athletics. The AIA cares as much about the last player off the bench as it does the team's five-star prospect.

As a member of the media you are expected to be professional at all times and follow local rules. While the AIA governs championships across the state, the athletic director at each school is ultimately the person in charge of all aspects of their programs. Their rules, as well as the AIA's must be adhered to at all times.

You, as members of the media, are at AIA events to cover them from a non-biased standpoint. Wearing school colors and logos, cheering, and criticism of game play and officials is not tolerated and not allowed in postseason venues. In addition to the student-athletes not participating in a professional setting, neither are the officials, many of whom only handle high school competitions.

The AIA is available year-round to aid in the media's ability to provide top-tier quality coverage of these outstanding athletes and programs.

NOTE: Rights to the regular season belong to the member schools. All rights to the postseason belong to the AIA and its partners.

1 REGULAR SEASON BROADCASTING

1.1 Rights for radio broadcasts, telecasts, and internet broadcasts for regular season contests in all sports are held by the home/host school. Outlets wishing to broadcast, telecast, or webcast a regular season contest should contact the athletic director or athletic department designee of the home/host school to secure rights and make arrangements.

1.2 Member schools may refuse an outlet's request to radio broadcast, telecast, or internet broadcast of a regular season contest.

2 POSTSEASON BROADCASTING

2.1 The outlet shall agree to hold the AIA and its member schools harmless because of any injury to person or property on the premises. The outlet shall further agree to assume all responsibility for any damages which are a direct result of the activities of the broadcast. The outlet shall also agree to defend all claims made against the AIA or its member schools for damages caused by the outlet of any nature.

2.2 Authorized working personnel employed by an outlet which has been approved to broadcast an AIA postseason contest will be admitted to the facility without charge upon presentation of proper identification and AIA approved media rights. Host school/sites must notify the AIA seven (7) days before the start of post-season play if they have banned any broadcasting outlets from their campus or venue.

2.3 An outlet wishing to broadcast a contest in the AIA postseason must request and be granted rights by the AIA prior to originating or accepting feed of such a radio broadcast, telecast, or internet broadcast per the guidelines specified on the AIA Media Rights Agreement online submission form.

2.3.1 The AIA postseason begins with sectional tournaments in "Individual" sports and the first round listed on a "State Championship" bracket in "team" sports. Region tournaments and Conference Play-In Tournaments are considered part of the regular season and are subject to the terms listed in Article 1.

2.3.2 The AIA reserves the right to grant exclusive rights to broadcasts for AIA postseason events to network providers.

2.4 The use of footage by an outlet granted broadcast rights is limited to complete playback of the contest(s) for which it was approved, or for the use of excerpts for regularly scheduled newscasts. Any other use of the verbal description and/or video account of the contest(s) must be approved in writing by the AIA.

2.5 The outlet must not sell, loan or give away any part of the footage shot, and must use it only for the purpose set forth above unless permission for its use otherwise is granted in writing by the AIA.

2.6 The AIA has the right to deny any outlet from radio broadcasting, telecasting, or internet broadcasting a postseason contest without cause, except when otherwise stated in agreements between the AIA and official media partners.

2.7 The AIA will not grant blanket broadcast rights to an outlet which intends to follow a school, until it is eliminated, through each level of an AIA postseason tournament.

2.8 The host school/site should cooperate with news media representatives in providing them access to a work area following a contest to aid in filing reports. The head coach of each competing team is encouraged to cooperate with the news media by participating in interviews as quickly as possible following the conclusion of the contest and providing contest statistics/results if available. Participation by athletes in interviews is voluntary and at the discretion of the head coach.

2.8.1 At neutral site/postseason contests operated by the AIA, areas for interviews will be provided by AIA staff. Statistics/results will be provided by the AIA, if applicable. Media accommodations shall be established in the agreement between the AIA and the host organization.

2.8.2 Media representatives cannot enter the area of competition and no interviews can take place during the awards ceremony or any other official action following a state championship contest.

3 CREDENTIALS

NOTE: All references to “credentials” in this section only apply to AIA media credentials.

The following internet sites will not be granted credentials: A) Social media platforms; B) Sites in which the majority of the content is personal in nature (such as a diary, blog, fan-based, etc.) rather than edited news content; C) Internet sites associated with alcohol, tobacco, drugs of any kind, gambling of any kind, political parties or candidates, or any other advertising considered in poor taste or not in compliance with the mission of interscholastic athletics as determined by the AIA; D) Sites developed solely to list/profile/rank recruiting prospects or teams and/or to provide chat rooms/forums/blogs; E) Sites that charge for content in whole or for a percentage of it. The AIA reserves the right to determine if a website falls into the category of a recruiting site or how much content would need to be free for consumers.

Internet sites desiring media credentials must have a demonstrated record of regular, sustained coverage of high school sports, which should include (but is not limited to): A) Publishing game stories and game statistics in a timely basis about individual contests; B) Publishing scores on game days; C) Streaming audio, video or other content on a real-time basis of contests; D) Publishing feature stories about high school sports teams, coaches and student-athletes.

Reasons for a denied credential application include, but are not limited to, lack of sustained coverage of high school sports, lack of sufficient bona fide news content, lack of editorial oversight, or an emphasis on recruiting.

3.1 An outlet must make sure all members of the crew are properly credentialed by the AIA. It is recommended that credentials be worn and visible at regular season events, and are required at postseason events.

3.1.1 Schools/host sites have the right to deny any non-credentialed media entity for a regular season contest and are required to deny any non-credentialed media entity for a postseason contest.

3.1.2 The AIA recommends schools/host sites allow entry to any properly credential media entity for a regular season contest and are required to allow entry to any properly credentialed media entity for a postseason contest.

3.2 A media outlet granted the opportunity to receive credentials for its staff members, freelancers and stringers must assure all said individuals are lawful to work in the state of Arizona and in close proximity of schools and students. Failure to make this assurance will result in the immediate revocation of the outlet's credentials.

3.3 A media outlet granted the opportunity to receive credentials for its staff members, freelancers and stringers are required to have all said individuals acquire a Fingerprint Clearance Card through the State of Arizona Department of Public Safety or background check through a reputable third party. Each credential will have a location for the individual to have their approved IVP or clearance number and expiration date entered online. Any individual in possession of an AIA media credential at an event that does not have proper clearance, or had their clearance expire or revoked will result in the immediate revocation of the outlet's credentials. The outlet and/or the outlet's individuals will be responsible for all fees incurred.

3.3.1 High school students aged 18 years or younger are exempt from this requirement.
